

DISCOVERIES AMONG THE STARS.—Wonderful Results Reported.—At the last meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society in London, Dr. Huggins, the eminent spectroscopist, made an extraordinary statement respecting the motions taking place among the stars. The results he announces are wonderful. Four years ago, he applied the spectroscopic to the bright star Sirius, though his instrumental means were not then sufficient to render him quite certain as to the result. Still, he was able to announce with some degree of confidence that Sirius is receding at a rate exceeding twenty miles per second. In order that he might extend the method to other stars, the Royal Society placed at his disposal a fine telescope, fifteen inches in aperture, and specially adapted to gather as much light as possible with that aperture. Suitable spectroscopic appliances were also provided for the delicate work Dr. Huggins was to undertake. It was but last winter, says the Spectator, that the instrument was ready for work; but already Dr. Huggins has obtained the most wonderful news from the stars with its aid. He finds that many of the stars are traveling far more swiftly than had been supposed. Arcturus, for example, is traveling towards us at the rate of some fifty miles per second, and as his thwart motion is fully as great, (for this star's distance has been estimated,) the actual velocity with which he is speeding through space cannot be less than seventy miles per second. Other stars are moving with corresponding velocities. But, amidst the motions thus detected, Dr. Huggins has traced the signs of law. First, he can trace a tendency among the stars in one part of the heavens to approach the earth, while the stars in the opposite part of the heavens are receding from us, and the stars which are approaching lie on that side of the heavens towards which Herschel long since taught us that the sun is traveling. But there are stars not obeying this simple law; and among these, Dr. Huggins recognizes instances of that community of motion to which a modern student of the stars has given the name of star-drift. It happens, indeed, that one of the most remarkable of these instances relates to five well-known stars, known to astronomers as Beta, Gamma, Delta, Epsilon and Zeta, of the Great Bear, all of which are drifting bodily through space, and receding from the earth at the rate of about thirty miles per second.

THE FISK MURDER TRIAL.—The case of Edward S. Stokes, charged with the murder of James Fisk, Jr., in New York, in January last, which has just been concluded on its first trial in that city, has resulted, as was to have been expected, in a failure of the jury to agree. The result illustrates the growing difficulty, whether in justice or not, of obtaining a verdict in capital cases in New York. In this case the most extraordinary and persistent efforts were made by the prisoner's counsel in his behalf—first, by attempting to invalidate the indictment, then a denial of jurisdiction, then by putting the jurors themselves, as it were, on trial, and finally, in the course of the trial, endeavoring first to show that the shooting was in self-defense; secondly, that the prisoner was crazy; and, thirdly, that the dead man really came to his death at the hands of his physicians rather than by the bullets of the pistol shot into him by the prisoner. It is stated that seven were for murder in the first degree, two for manslaughter in the third degree and three for acquittal. The afternoon papers of New York comment severely upon the failure to reach a verdict, regarding it generally as a farce, and but the fore-runner of an acquittal.

A mournful accident recently befell the town of Janesville, Wis., resulting in the drowning of three young ladies of the place. A party of girls had gone on a bathing excursion in a seemingly safe stream, but which was full of shallow sand-bars and deep holes beyond, worn out by the action of the water. One of the foremost was remarking upon the enjoyable nature of her position as she stood upon one of the bars, but the next moment, taking a step beyond, she was struggling wildly and shrieking for help. A companion sprang to her assistance only to add to the complexity and difficulty of the situation. The shrieks of the frightened girls who were witnessing the appalling spectacle, neither daring nor able to render aid, brought upon the scene a young married woman, who, seeing the danger, and not stopping to count the cost, sprang into the murky depths, and in a few minutes all had disappeared below the surface, leaving not so much as a ripple above them, and it was an hour afterward before their dead bodies could be found.

It looks as if war was not only threatened, but almost inevitable in South America, between Brazil and the Argentine Confederation. The Brazilian Government, according to letters just received in London, is preparing for hostilities, and is daily awaiting large quantities of munitions of war from Europe. The difficulty with the Argentine republic arose from the non-fulfillment of the treaty concerning Paraguay.

Special Notices.

The Vital Drain.—It is necessary to the health of the body that its exhausted and refused particles should be carried off by the excretory organs, and it is equally necessary that the waste matter thus expelled should be replaced by new elements derived from digested and assimilated food. It is evident, therefore, that good digestion and perfect assimilation are essential to bodily vigor; and it is because HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS powerfully assist these processes, that it is regarded by the intelligent classes, whose opinions are founded on observation, as the only absolute specific for dyspepsia and its attendant ills, at present known. When the system, either from constitutional causes, overwork, excess, anxiety or actual disease, is in an unnaturally relaxed condition, something more than its exhausted particles passes through the pores. Vitality leaks through these ventages. Elements which should remain in the blood and enrich it are evolved, and that fluid becomes then watery and incapable of removing the solids of the body as fast as they decay. The consequences are emaciation, debility, nervousness, loss of spirits, and a general, or perhaps a rapid, decline of all powers of life. It is in cases like this that the restorative properties of Hostetter's Bitters are most conspicuous. The first two or three doses sometimes produce a change in the feelings and aspects of the invalid that is perfectly astonishing, and by a persevering use of this superlative vegetable tonic and alterative, the vital drain is sure to be arrested, the strength reinstated, the flesh restored, the constitution reinforced, and the brain relieved of the cloud that obscured it.

Plain Questions for Invalids.—Have the routine medicines of the profession done you no good? Are you discouraged and miserable? If so, test the properties of the new Vegetable Specific, Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, already famous as the most invigorant, corrective and alterative, that has ever been brought to light. Dyspepsia and persons of bilious habit should keep it within reach, if they value health and ease. What Every Horseman Wants.—A good, cheap and reliable Liniment. Such an article is Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment. First bottles for one dollar. For Lameness, Cuts, Galls, Colic, Sprains, &c., warranted better than any other. Sold by the Druggists. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. Burnett's Cocaine.—A compound of Cocaine Oil, &c., for the Hair, has established a world-wide reputation. Its natural adaptability, agreeableness, and FREEDOM FROM ALL INJURIOUS OR NOXIOUS ENDOGENOUS, together with its cheapness in respect to handling, and size of bottle, render it unequalled by any other preparation in the world. For sale by all Druggists.

Agents of the Mouth.—Odiferous Sozodonta renders the mouth enervating, composed of rare, antiseptic herbs, it imparts whiteness to the teeth, a delicious flower-like aroma to the breath, and preserves intact, from youth to age, the teeth.

Pain's Astral Oil.—More accidents occur from using unsafe oils than from steamboats and railroads combined. Over 200,000 families continue to burn Pain's Astral Oil, and no accidents, directly or indirectly, have occurred from burning, storing, or handling it. Oil House of Charles Pratt, established 1770, New York.

A Beautiful White, soft, smooth and clear skin is produced by using G. W. Laid's "Bloom of Youth." Irish Champagne!
YES, IRISH CHAMPAGNE! Why not? Was not the great Apostle of Temperance, Father Matthew, an Irishman? Still, were he alive to-day, he would quaff a cup of this beverage, and, smacking his lips, bless the man who invented "Irish Champagne." This can be drunk with perfect safety by the Knights of Pythias, Good Templars, or Bad Templars, Sons of Malta, Sons of Temperance, or anybody else's sons or daughters, masons, brick-layers, chimney-sweepers—in fact, anybody, particularly those who wear Grant hats and Greeley hats, or their own hats, are invited fraternally to imbibe (at their own expense, mind) this superlatively delicious beverage.

This notice would have been further extended, but a man borrowed our lotionary, and several big words we intended to use are necessarily omitted; but when our man returns that Dictionary, the public may expect to hear from us again.
